

M-Seal Bags

While the M-Seal bag is commonly known as the traditional coffee bag, it can also be used to package a variety of other products. The high barrier foil lamination provides protection for nuts, chocolate, tea, cookies and other products that should not be exposed to oxygen or moisture. M-Seal bags can also be used in larger sizes for products such as pet food, utilizing a terminated gusset with a zipper.

M-Seal bags are available with various types of seals including quad-seal, center-fin seal, and corner-fin seal and bottoms made with or without a v-cut or v-seal. While multiple sizes and colors are available as part of our extensive stock program, custom sizes and rotogravure printing are available to make your brand stand out. The bags can also feature tin ties to increase consumer convenience, and one-way degassing valves designed to preserve product flavor by letting gas escape without allowing air to enter.
